

Our neighbor of the Commonwealth, taking his cue from the JUPITER TOMANS of the whig press in this state, the Louisville Journal, accuses several democratic papers, the Yeoman among the rest, of condemning the administration in regard to the Greytown affair. If he will refer to our article upon the subject, he will find that we spoke only upon the scant information we could call at the time from our exchanges. We also said there might probably be 'palliating circumstances' connected with the case, which, when developed, would exonerate the administration from all blame. Those 'palliating circumstances' have been developed, and he has a wonderfully discriminating ken, which we confess we have not, if he can see any thing in the instructions as sent to Congress, which is calculated to reflect dishonor upon the administration. The secret of this great outcry upon the part of the whig press is, that it was the act of a democratic and not a whig administration. Had Greytown been bombarded under the Fillmorean reign, the whig journals of high and low degree, would have cried 'hallelujah' to their heart's content, but as it was done under Pierce's administration, they have gotten the sacrificial bowl and knife ready, and intend to immolate him.

IS THERE A CITY MARSHALL AMONG US?—At the Police Court on yesterday the question was raised upon various warrants served by our acting Marshall whether or not he is legally in office. After hearing the arguments pro and con, his honor Judge Monroe was unable to decide—great city this.

HORRIBLE CATASTROPHE.—By an extra from the Maysville Express, we learn that a large magazine, containing eight hundred kegs of blasting and rifle powder, was fired by some scoundrels, or fiends rather, on Saturday night about 2 o'clock. Strange to say no one was killed, but there were several injured; a great many buildings in Maysville, had their roofs torn off, and walls demolished. Dwellings in east Maysville and Aberdeen were shaken, and their windows broken. $1,000 reward have been offered for the perpetrators of this horrid act.

NORTH CAROLINA ELECTION.—The following table embraces all the returns of the election for Governor in North Carolina yet received by the Telegraph and mail. They are compared with the vote for Governor in 1852, when Gov. Reid (dem.) was elected by a majority of 5,564:

These figures will put a damper on those whig papers that have been chuckling over the fancied defeat of the democratic candidate. That they had strong hopes of electing Dockery, we think they will not deny. They wished for the success of their candidate, because they fancied it would be a rebuke to the administration, and nothing was left undone that would secure it. That they have made a wrong calculation is now certain. They must go somewhere outside of old North Carolina, if they hope to find sympathy for their anti-Nebraskaism, or wish for something that would seem to condemn the acts of President Pierce. We rejoice in this triumph of the democracy of the old North State, for she was one of those whig States which refused to support General Scott, because of his sympathy with the Seward and Greeley abolition clique.—She had faith, in 1852 in the patriotism of New Hampshire's favorite son—a patriotism that knew no North and no South, and she has spoken in thunder-tones that that confidence is not yet shaken—that she, for one, is satisfied with the manner in which he has conducted the affairs of the government, and is willing, aye, anxious to trust him further.

We had the pleasure of meeting with the Hon. Jno. C. Breckinridge, in Lexington last Saturday. He looks very well indeed after the arduous labors of the past session, and is in better plight than ever to run another race.

"Why didn't you run away, as I do?" said the locomotive to the Railroad car. "Because I was tied down," was the desponding answer.

The Execution of Weigart.

Saturday last, as our readers will recollect, was the day appointed for the execution of William Weigart, who was convicted of the murder of Chas. Cushing, in Lexington, last winter. It was announced that the execution would take place, contrary to general expectation, between 9 and 10 in the morning. At an early hour, crowds could be seen coming into the city from every direction, and by 9 o'clock the street in front of the jail was crowded to such an excess that it was impossible for vehicles or horsemen to pass. The Sheriff, with an armed guard, was stationed around the door to keep the crowd from pressing too closely upon the car, which was standing in readiness.

At about half past nine, the prisoner, escorted by the Jailor, the Sheriff, and the Reverend Messrs. Berkley and Pratt, made his appearance, with a quick, agitated step, and waving his prayer book, ascended into the car. Several of his friends got in with him and the mournful cortege drove slowly off to the spot at which he was to take his departure from earthly affairs. A very large crowd followed, and preceded the car, while the windows and doors along the route were filled with anxious, eager faces, desirous of catching a glimpse of the unfortunate man. Soon the dreadful implement of death was seen rearing its gloomy head in the distance, and as the prisoner neared it a perceptible shudder went over his whole frame. An immense multitude were gathered there, and all heads were turned to the advancing car, which was bearing a fellow human to his death.

Arriving at the foot of the gallows, the car stopped. Rev. Messrs. Pratt and Berkley, then sang a hymn, in which the prisoner joined, and then the first named gentleman, addressed the throne of grace in behalf of the unfortunate young man. Weigart himself then knelt down, and in silence, prayed for a few moments, then rising from his feet, Mr. Berkley commended the poor prisoner to the kind mercies of a just and forgiving God. During each of the prayers, Weigart's voice could be heard, as if in supplication to heaven. The devotional exercises being concluded, the officers of the law, stepped forward, and commenced the dreadful preparation for death, by tying his hands. Up to this time, the prisoner seemed to have been supported by some vague hope of rescue or pardon, but when the fatal white cap was drawn over his eyes, he seemed to realize, and not fully until then, the dreadful fate that awaited him. While the rope was being tied, his acquaintances came around, and bid him farewell. Having thanked his clerical friends for their kindness and unremitting attention to him, during his incarceration, he commenced an inaudible murmuring as if in prayer, and as that was concluded, the knot was arranged around his neck, and the rope fastened to the beam above. All was ready now, and the period for him to expiate the crime he had committed against his God and the laws of the land had arrived—the word was given to drive off, when the prisoner attempted to anticipate it by jumping off. He failed in this, and the word was repeated; the car started, and in another moment the unfortunate criminal was writhing in the death agonies between heaven and earth. He was very light, and the fall did not break his neck, and his sufferings were intense; several times he drew himself up some distance, and let his whole weight fall quickly, with the intention, we suppose of putting an end to his pain. Oh! it was a horrid sight to see a human being writhing and twisting in all the torture of disgraceful strangulation, and God grant that no necessity may ever again arise, which will demand the interposition of the strong arm of the law to secure such a horrid vengeance.—But it was right, and retributive justice, has overtaken the wicked.

He died penitent and with full confidence in the promises held out by the scripture. His remains were attended to the Cemetery on Sunday evening by a good concourse of people.

It was a moment for serious and solemn reflection, yet in all that vast crowd, we could perceive not a single cheek that was moistened with the tear of sympathy, and almost every countenance wore its every day, business like aspect. After the first shock, the momentary horror was dispelled, and the careless jest and idle laugh were heard, in strange discord to the death rattle and gurgling groans of the expiring victim.

We have remarked that the crowd was large, that we expected, yet we felt inexplicably shocked and almost disgusted, as we saw the number of females on the ground. It is scarcely credible, yet it is true. Who would have expected that woman, sweet synonym for mercy, and gentleness, she whose delicate hands are ever ready to minister to the wants of the distressed, and to soothe the troubled and care-laden mind, could have gazed upon a scene, which was enough to harrow the sensibilities of a strong man. We are gratified to think that the larger portion of females in the city repudiated the very thought of going to the execution; for this we commend them, as it displays that kindness of heart and commiseration for the misfortunes of others, which has ever been the crowning ornaments of their character.

INFORMATION WANTED.—William Davidson emigrated to the United States from the neighborhood of Edinburgh, Scotland, about twenty-three years ago. When last heard from, nine years ago, he was in Kentucky. If living, he will obtain important information by addressing P. Swigert, Esq., Frankfort, Kentucky, who has received letters from his friends in Scotland. Kentucky and other Western papers please copy.

APPOINTMENT BY THE GOVERNOR.—ROBERT McKee, of Hopkinsville, to be Commissioner to settle the accounts of the Second Kentucky Lunatic Asylum, vice EUGENE M. COVINGTON, resigned.

The disciples of Terpsichore will recollect that Col. D. KARPONAT'S Grand Prize Ball comes off this evening at the Capitol Hotel. Everything will be admirably arranged, and those who participate in the festivities, will be amply repaid in pleasure, for the money they expend.—The Colonel's prizes, which are very fine indeed, will be on exhibition at some of our jewelry establishments to-day.

PROVIDENTIAL ESCAPE.—On Sunday last, just as the congregation of the Catholic church in Lexington had been dismissed, the whole ceiling, joists and cross beams, &c., fell in with a tremendous crash. Father Maguire did not preach that day, because the evening previous several pieces of plastering had fallen, and he feared that others might fall during preaching, and alarm the ladies, but he did not anticipate any such catastrophe.—Had he preached as usual, the whole congregation would have been buried beneath the timbers, and no estimate can be formed as to the number that would have been killed or injured. We consider this as a most singular and palpable manifestation of Divine Providence in behalf of human beings.

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 12.

The Know-Nothings school directors in the lower section of the city have removed a number of teachers within the last few days, all of whom are said to be Roman Catholics. This has caused considerable feeling among the friends of the proscribed.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 11.

The navy yard foundry was this afternoon destroyed by fire. They were casting a cylinder for the steamer Fulton, and two-thirds of the metal poured into the moulds, when the latter exploded, the eruption instantly setting in a blaze the roof. There were a hundred spectators at the time, all of whom escaped without damage. The adjoining buildings were saved by strenuous exertions.

DURHAM, Aug. 10.

In nine counties, Grimes, for Governor, is 300 ahead. Mr. Hempstead, for Congress, has the same majority.

BALTIMORE, Aug. 11.

The Star says that there is no truth in the report that the French minister had made a demand for damage inflicted on the property of French subjects of Greytown.

Col. Sellington, who was first elected Senator from North Carolina, is dead.

NEW YORK, Aug. 12.

Deaths in this city for the week ending to day 1,050, of which 265 were from cholera. This is a decrease of 40 from last week.

"Madam," said a crowd of physicians to a patient, "If women were admitted to a paradise their tongues would make it a purgatory." "And some physicians, if allowed to practice there," replied the lady, "would soon make it a desert."

SPECIAL NOTICES.

TO THE PUBLIC.—Since the late fire I purchased from J. N. C. ANSON his entire interest in the firm of CANNON & GAINES, and have disposed of the whole stock in trade to Dr. J. M. Miles. My thanks are hereby tendered for the liberal patronage bestowed upon the late firm, and I take pleasure in requesting all the friends and patrons of the same to extend their custom to Dr. Miles.

Halloway's Pills—Extraordinary Cure of Palpitation of the heart.—Professor Halloway, of 35, Ann-street, New York, had the pleasure of receiving a letter from Mr. John Baker, of state street, Boston, a letter, dated March 17th, 1854, which is subjoined verbatim.—"Dear Doctor, Your Pills are entirely good: a few years ago I was under the treatment of Dr. —, of this city, I suffered with palpitation of the heart to so great an extent, that I was frequently obliged to abstain from any kind of exercise, mental or bodily, for weeks together. A short time since, I was seized with violent sickness and spitting of blood; I, of course, went to my old friend, but finding him out, I went into the stores of Redding & Co., of this city, for a new pair of pants, and accidentally saw several boxes of your Pills—there I purchased one, took a few doses, and the result was very favorable; by persevering with them, I am entirely cured, and have to thank you for now enjoying good health."

PERHAM'S 100,000 GIFTS.

OFFICIAL PROCEEDINGS of the SHARE HOLDERS in Perham's Third Gift Enterprise, IN MASS MEETING!

HELD AT

Academy Hall, 663 Broadway, New York,

ON THURSDAY EVENING, JULY 27th 1854.

At 8 o'clock the meeting was called to order by Dr. Hall when B. S. Adams, Esq., was nominated and unanimously elected Chairman, and Robert Beatty, Esq., appeared Secretary.

The first business in order being the selection of a Committee of five persons to receive and dispose of the Gifts, it was on motion Resolved, that we choose the following named gentlemen.

ROBERT BEATTY, Jr., J. B. ADAMS, J. L. LATROP.

Justice Latrop offered the following Resolution:

Resolved, That the Committee have power to fill vacancies, from a neglect to serve or to fill the requirements of a member.—Carried.

The Secretary then read the following:

Resolved, That the Committee be authorized to receive from Mr. Perham the Gift property, or take from him bonds for its delivery, as called for, and hold the same in trust for the Shareholders.—Carried.

On inquiry, it was ascertained that Mr. Perham had sold about 40,000 out of the 100,000 Gifts. Tickets, when the following Resolutions were offered and unanimously adopted:

Resolved, That so soon as it is ascertained that 80,000 Gift Tickets issued by Mr. Perham in his third enterprise are sold, the Committee shall call the Share holders together at the most convenient place, for the purpose of instructing and Committee in regard to the manner of disposing of the Gift Property. Amongst those holding Share Tickets.

Resolved, That in order to close the enterprise at the earliest possible moment, this meeting recommend all persons now holding Share Tickets, to use their influence in obtaining subscriptions and advance the interest of the whole body.

On motion, adjourned.

ROBERT BEATTY, Jr., Secretary.

MR. PERHAM'S CARD.

Accompanying you have submitted the official proceedings of the Share Holders in Mass Meeting, convened on Thursday evening, July 27th, 1854, for the purpose of selecting a Committee, and taking into consideration other matters affecting the interests of all ticket holders in my third Gift Enterprise.

It will be seen that a Committee have been appointed and instructions given them as to the course to be pursued up to a certain stage of progression in the enterprise. For the information of absent share holders here I beg leave to state, that the number of tickets sold up to the present time is about 40,000. From this you will perceive, and so soon as 80,000 more are sold, they will advise the whole body of share holders of the fact and act on them, in general meeting assembled for the purpose, instructions as to the final disposition of the Gift Property, with which they are intrusted.

That these 40,000 tickets may be sold in the shortest possible time, the undersigned makes the following proposition, unequalled for liberality.

Each person who gets up a club of ten subscribers and forwards (10) ten dollars to this office, will receive by return mail or otherwise, ten Extra tickets.

Each person who sends, at one time, one hundred dollars, will have sent in like manner, one hundred and fifty tickets.
